Willis Grows New York Real Estate Practice

New York, NY, November 15, 2006 – Willis Group Holdings (NYSE: WSH), the global insurance broker, announced today the appointment of five professionals to its New York Real Estate Practice in its New York office to support the company's already substantial base of real estate business, and to grow further in this important sector of the local economy. Since their arrival, the executives have secured client assignments from some of the most prominent real estate developers, owners, and managers in the New York market.

Commenting on the success of the New York Real Estate professionals, New York Regional Sales Manager, Brian Ruane said, "The addition of these real estate insurance professionals is further confirmation that we are both the employer of choice and the broker of choice for those involved in real estate insurance."

Led by Michael F. Power, the New York Real Estate Practice includes Michael S. Reich, Michael "M.J." Power, and Maritza Roman.

Michael F. Power, CPCU, is a Senior Vice President and Client Advocate in the Real Estate and Hospitality Practice. He brings more than 28 years of experience in the insurance industry. Before joining Willis, he was with Acordia/Wells Fargo for 14 years. He has also been consulted by and has worked closely with leaders of the real estate and lending industries in conjunction with the Terrorism Risk Insurance Extension Act (TRIEA) of 2005. Power received a B.S. in General Business from LeMoyne College and has attended insurance courses at The Wharton School.

Michael S. Reich is a Vice President and Client Advocate in Willis' Real Estate and Hospitality Practice Group. Reich has more than 18 years' experience in the insurance industry with a concentration in the residential and commercial real estate area. Before joining Willis, he spent 12 years with Acordia/Wells Fargo, where he serviced a diversified book of commercial accounts including a number of public and privately held real estate accounts. He earned a B.S. in Health Care Administration from the State University of New York at Buffalo.

Michael "M.J." Power, CPCU, is an Assistant Vice President and Client Advocate in the Real Estate and Hospitality Practice at Willis. Prior to joining Willis, he worked with Frank Crystal & Co. and Aon Risk Services specializing in the commercial real estate insurance market. An active member of the New York CPCU Society and the NY Chapter of the Young Insurance Professionals (YIP), he graduated from Iona College with a B.A. in Marketing and Management.

Maritza Roman is an Associate Client Advocate in the Real Estate and Hospitality Practice Groups in Willis' New York office. Roman has more than 15 years' experience in the insurance industry with a concentration in the residential and commercial real estate area. Before joining Willis, she was with Acordia/Wells Fargo for 10 years. She received a B.A. in Sociology from Baruch College, and is also a licensed Property and Casualty broker in the State of New York.
