Willis Appoints New CEO for Latin America

London, UK, November 21, 2007 – Reinforcing the importance of Latin America as part of its international network, Willis Group Holdings (NYSE: WSH), the global insurance broker, has appointed Eugenio Paschoal CEO of the region. Mr. Paschoal's appointment underlines Willis' commitment to ensuring that its international offices receive strong leadership from within the territories.

Mr. Paschoal has spent the last 10 years heading Willis Brazil, where he demonstrated outstanding leadership as a member of the senior Latin America management team.

Mr. Paschoal said of his new role, "Latin America's fast-growing economy presents great opportunity for growth in all segments including large risks, small commercial, Employee Benefits and Affinity business. Our objective is to put in place a growth driven regional structure focused on operational efficiency and sales process. We also want to invest further in our platform so we can continue to provide the highest levels of service to our clients."

"I am delighted that Eugenio has accepted this important role as we look to execute our plans for growth in Latin America in 2008 and beyond", said Allan Gribben, CEO Willis International, "We have a very strong operation in Latin America and this appointment demonstrates the strength within the regional management team."

Mr. Paschoal replaces Jose Ribeiro, who left Willis earlier this year for a senior role at Lloyd's.

Willis Group Holdings Limited is a leading global insurance broker, developing and delivering professional insurance, reinsurance, risk management, financial and human resource consulting and actuarial services to corporations, public entities and institutions around the world. Including our Associates, we have over 300 offices in some 100 countries, with a global team of approximately 16,000 employees serving clients in some 190 countries.
