

Emerging Issues in Environmental Liability - RMG100

Monday, 3:30 pm - 5:00 pm

This panel discussion is an update on the environmental issues that keep risk managers up at night. Speakers include a corporate risk manager, an attorney specializing in environmental litigation matters, an environmental engineer and a broker specializing in environmental liability insurance. We will discuss specific areas of environmental liability, including climate change, wastewater contaminants, indoor air quality and vapor intrusion and the tightening of insurance coverages. You will have a fuller understanding of why this exposure is only getting more complex and expensive—just don't shoot the messenger!
