

David M. Liner
Vice President

David Liner is a Vice President with Account Management responsibilities in the Major Accounts Division of Willis of Tennessee, Inc.

With 33 years of total insurance experience, and 22 years with Willis, David has held various positions in the industry, including Commercial Underwriter for a large domestic insurance corporation, a Commercial Marketing Analyst and an Account Manager. David has particular expertise in insurance coverage, contracts and loss sensitive programs and serves as a resource for many Willis risk management clients.

David's unique background complements his service talents with such industry groups as general, heavy and residential construction, real estate development, property management, hospitality and manufacturing. He has been involved in the marketing and administration of two commercial wrap-ups and several residential wrap-ups.

A graduate of Tennessee Technological University, David is a member of the Council of Insurance Agents and Brokers, the Insurors of Tennessee and the Insurors of Nashville. In addition to authoring several internal and external professional articles, David has been a speaker before several large trade associations including the Tennessee Road Builders, National Railroad Construction Association, Construction Financial Management Association, Risk Insurance Management Society, and the National Restaurant Association.