

Mission Impossible: A Global Program - INT100

Wednesday, 9:00 am - 10:30 am

Your mission, should you choose to attend this session, is to learn how to manage an effective global program. Join a candid discussion of admitted versus nonadmitted coverages, required policies in certain countries and the tax ramifications of not following compulsory guidelines. Three risk managers will offer examples of successes and challenges in coordinating a global program. You will be armed with analysis to address current exposures outside the United States. Materials will provide up-to-date requirements in a number of countries, including China, Brazil and Canada.
