

Charles R. Woodman, CPA
Regional Director & Practice Leader
Risk Finance
Willis Risk Solutions

Charlie Woodman is the Risk Finance Practice Leader for Willis North America's Southeast Region. This Practice provides risk management advisory services for structured risk solutions and advanced risk finance, including captive insurance companies and self-funding mechanisms, alternative risk transfer arrangements, financial assessment and modeling, and insurance regulatory, tax and financial accounting implications

Prior to joining Willis, Charlie spent 13 years as a lead consultant in captives, alternative risk finance, and enterprise risk management at Johnson & Higgins / Marsh & McLennan. During his 25 years in financial management and client advisory, he served as the Corp. Controller / Vice President of Finance for an A+ rated property and casualty (re)insurer and as a senior tax manager (Big Four) in insurance and risk finance. Charlie is a frequent speaker on risk and finance, and has written articles on insurance tax, finance and accounting.

Charlie earned an MS (Tax) and an MBA (Finance / Acct.) from Georgia State University and his BA from Emory University. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants, Tax Section, AICPA, and Financial Executives International.