

Insurance is a numbers business, and the numbers masters are the actuaries. Willis HRH has strong actuarial talent made available to you through our Client Advocate model.

Willis HRH is the leader in communicating actuarial results in an understandable manner. We believe that to produce the most valuable results, it is imperative that you understand the underlying assumptions that go into an actuarial study. Willis HRH actuaries make it a point to not only understand the dynamics of your business, but to make sure you fully grasp the reasoning and data behind the work we do for you.

Casualty Actuarial Services in North America is managed by two fellows and two associates of the Casualty Actuarial Society. All four hold membership in the American Academy of Actuaries, which allows them to certify reserve opinions to state insurance departments and auditors. The team also includes seven additional actuarial professionals.

Willis HRH offers a wide range of consulting services, including but not limited to:

- Actuarial loss reserve analysis
- Statement of opinion letters for captive formations and state insurance departments
- Statement of opinion letters for captives including coverages related to exposures under TRIPRA and related NBCR acts of Terrorism
- Loss forecasting and confidence level analysis
- Negotiation of letters of credit
- Assistance in determining appropriate aggregate retention attachment level
- Negotiation of loss portfolio transfers
- Retention analysis, forecasting losses by various per occurrence and aggregate retention levels

CONTACTS

For further information, please contact:

Ed Davenport, FCAS, MAAA

615 872 3435
ed.davenport@willis.com

Greg Alff, FCAS, MAAA

615 872 3440
greg.alf@willis.com

Heather Lake, ACAS, MAAA

615 872 3436
heather.lake@willis.com

Gregory Jones, ACAS, MAAA

212 915 8014
greg.jones@willis.com